

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Former Collection Advisor Magazine Drops Collection From Their Name and Adds Receivables to Embrace Servicing the Entire Receivables Market

Ft. Worth, TX -- Seventeen years after Abide Media launched Collection Advisor magazine, it will change its name to Receivables Advisor. The new name will debut with the upcoming May/June 2019 issue.

“Innovative technology is disrupting accounts receivable,” said founder, T. Steel Rose, CPA. “This name change comes along with an increase in webinars and face to face events to solidify our commitment to servicing the entire receivables market.”

The rebrand of Receivables Advisor follows the announcement of the return of its accounts receivable technology conference, CollectTECH19. Like its predecessors in 2005-2008, the conference will showcase the latest in accounts receivable technology. CollectTECH19 comes to Fort Worth, TX, November 18-20.

Interested parties can learn more about the event at CollectTECH19.com

T. Steel Rose, CPA
Receivables Advisor
Magazine Founder

Contact Info

Josh Fluegel
817-416-6650
josh@receivablesadvisor.com

Abide Media
PO Box 92342
Southlake, TX 76092-0135